

Session summary:

This session allows the children to consider some of the creatures that lived millions of years ago. The children will then take part in our specially written story about Milly the Mammoth and interact with lots of different objects. They will be given an opportunity to think about themes such as identity and inclusion.

To finish the session the children will have the opportunity to colour in a mask to take back to school.

Learning objectives:

The pupils will have the opportunity to:

- Work individually, in small groups and as a whole class.
- Consider the theme of identity.
- Make a mask to take home.
- Listen to and participate in a story.

Additional Information:

- This session may take place partly outdoors, so please ensure that children are dressed appropriately.
- It is useful to know if any members of your class have learning, physical or sensory difficulties or illnesses that may affect their enjoyment of the session.

Suggested activities:

After the visit:

- The children could finish their mask and tell their own stories using them.
- They could research how different creatures are identified by different features.
